

Jacobson Bros.

WE ARE NOW OPEN

Jacobson Bros.

"WALK-OVER BOOT SHOP"

PANTHEON BLOCK

HOTEL STREET

SOCIETY

Mrs. L. Tenney Peck's Luncheon.

The Oahu Country Club never looked prettier than today—when filled with enchantress carnations and violets with a background of potted plants and palms, the gala occasion being the luncheon given by Mrs. L. Tenney Peck, Mrs. Northrup Castle and Miss Marlon Haviland are the guests of honor. The hostess is famed for her hospitality and displays ingenuity in planning her entertainments—they are invariably marked by beauty and originality. The luncheon was served today at six tables. At one of the smaller tables was seated the hostess' mother, Mrs. L. Newton Locke and three of her intimate friends, Mrs. Henry Waterhouse, Miss Haviland and Mrs. J. Thompson. All of the tables were garlanded with flowers and greens. The receptacles used for the enchantress carnations were cut glass vases varying in size. Mauve violets were scattered over the surface of the table. The combination of pale pink and violet was very pretty. The place cards were long and narrow in shape, these exquisite hand-painted mementos were adorned with violets. Among the young people invited to meet the two honored guests were Mrs. Benjamin Lodge Marx, Mrs. George Iseberg, Miss M. Waterhouse, Mrs. Joseph Shedy, Miss Mann, Mrs. Alfred Castle, Mrs. John Erdman, Mrs. Robert Bond, Miss Hughes, Mrs. Sandow of Kaula, Mrs. Gustav Schaefer, Miss Wilhelmina Tenney, Miss Irma Ballentine, Miss Julie McStocker, Miss Esther Kopke, Miss Stoeber, Miss Helen Achilles, Miss Lydia McStocker, Miss Tuttle, Mrs. Arthur Macintosh, Miss Jessie Kennedy, Miss Dorothy Wood, Miss Katherine Stephens, Miss Ethel Spalding, Miss Marjorie Peterson, Mrs. Lawrence Judd, Miss Gertrude Harding, Miss Adelaide Harding, Miss Alice Cooper, Miss Nora Swamy, Miss Nora Sturgeon, Miss Edith Williams and Miss Agnes Buchanan.

Miss Helen Alexander's Tea.

The tea given Thursday afternoon by Miss Helen Alexander at her pretty bungalow in Nuunuu valley, proved a source of enjoyment to the friends who were able to accept the invitation. The tea was given in honor of Miss Edith Ewart, whose engagement has recently been announced to Mr. Robert Catton. The home was filled with roses, different varieties being used in each room. In the dining room, Mrs. Andrew Fuller presided at the coffee urn, and Mrs. Ewart was in charge of the tea table. During the hours of 4 and 6 the following townfolk called to pay their respects and wish the young bride much happiness. Mrs. Paul Iseberg, Mrs. McGahey of San Francisco, Mrs. E. Faxon Bishop, Mrs. George Rodlek, Mrs. Singlehurst, Mrs. Chas. Weight, Mrs. Arthur Macintosh, Mrs. Robert Bond, Mrs. Emil Waterman, Mrs. Arthur Frederick Wall, Mrs. Walter Jones, Mrs. Herman Focke, Mrs. Richard Cooke, Mrs. Meyer of San Francisco, Mrs. George Iseberg, Mrs. Alfred Castle, Mrs. E. W. Jordan, Mrs. Andrew Fuller, Mrs. Winifred Babbit, Mrs. Mabelle Phillips, Mrs. Frederick Klebahn, Mrs. Gustav Schaefer, Miss Agnes Walker, Miss Geraldine Neuman, Miss Cordelia Walker, Miss Ina Hughes, Miss Margaret Waterhouse, Miss Nora Sturgeon, Mrs. John Erdman, Mrs. D. Howard Hitchcock, Miss Hannigan and others. During the afternoon Mrs. Charles Weight was prevailed upon to sing. Her vocal selections were greatly enjoyed. Mrs. D. Howard Hitchcock accompanied her.

Captain and Mrs. Harlow's Box Party.
Among the guests that Captain and Mrs. Harlow entertained at a box party, Thursday evening on the U. S. S. California to witness the minstrel show, were Mr. and Mrs. E. Faxon Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tenney, Captain Terhune and others. The box was gaily decorated with flags, pennants and hunting.

Mrs. L. L. McCandless Luncheon.
Mrs. L. L. McCandless has issued invitations for an informal luncheon party to be given at her home on Aliha street, Friday afternoon. The invitations have been issued by telephone and the coming entertainment has been designated a mother's and daughter's luncheon. The informal gathering will be in honor of Mrs. Hargear of Tacoma, Wash.

Mrs. Augur's Luncheon.
Mrs. George Augur gave a pretty and informal luncheon, Tuesday afternoon, complimentary to Mrs. Cook, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. William Adams and Mrs. De Lartigue, who is spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. A. N. Campbell. Covers were laid for eight, the table was attractively decorated with double pink hibiscus and maiden hair ferns. Among those who accepted Mrs. Augur's hospitality were Mrs. Frederick Steere, Mrs. Cook and her sister, Miss Mary Sparks, Mrs. William D. Adams, Mrs. Walter Coombs, Mrs. De Lartigue, Mrs. George Kluegel and Mrs. A. N. Campbell.

Mrs. Camp's Dinner.
Uniqueness as well as beauty characterized the dinner, given by Mrs. E. Goodale Camp, Tuesday evening at her home on Pacific Heights. The entertainment possessed the distinctive entire program being carried out with perfect ease and grace.

Miss Dora Broadbent, in a trio of pianofortes, acquitted herself in high praise. Clement's "Sonatina" was played in a masterful manner, while special mention must be made of another which was filled with beautiful expression. The piece was "From the Impromptu" (Rosamond). The ease with which Miss Dora controlled the most difficult parts, showed a technique of which many older persons might feel justly proud.
The pianoforte solo by Miss Edith Rice, entitled "Sweet Evelyn Waltz" was executed with splendid precision, while "A Leisure Hour," one of the young lady's favorites, was played with a rounded-up expression which displayed a degree of skill rarely developed in one so young.
The vocal selections were especially little expressions which were rendered with excellent expression, the enunciation being particularly clear. Little four-year-old Charlotte Elben Carter, Mrs. Carter's most youthful pupil, covered herself with distinction in rendering four verses of a pretty little action song entitled "All for Baby."
After the conclusion of the very pleasing program, small tables daintily decorated with pink carnations were set for refreshments on the final.

Lihue Birthday Party.
A most enjoyable birthday party was that which was given by Mrs. Wu, H. Rice, Jr., at Kaula, last week Friday afternoon, the occasion being the eleventh birthday anniversary of Master Harrison and the first birthday of little Miss Dora Mary. The fact that the two birthdays fell on the same date though ten years between, is a coincidence rarely experienced and gave rise to much comment concerning the distinguished couple. An unusual number of pretty gifts were received and most highly appreciated.

Cards at Eleele.
Mr. and Mrs. Hastie of Eleele, Kaula, entertained at a party to their many friends here last week Saturday evening. Mr. Brodie won the gents' first prize, a handsome ebony clothes brush, while Mrs. Morse became the proud possessor of a beautiful silver cologne bottle as ladies' first prize. The consolation prize, an artistic water color reproduction of the Hanapepe falls was awarded by cutting the cards and was captured by Mr. Dillingham.
Among those present from Hanapepe were Mr. and Mrs. Brodie, Mrs. Morse, Miss Haffley and Miss Laube.

Musical at Lihue.
Mrs. Carter gave one of her delightful musicals last Thursday afternoon at Lihue, Kaula, invitations having been issued to parents and friends of the pupils that they might enjoy the treat which was in store for them. Decorations consisted of a profusion of shasta daisies and pink carnations. The children did beautifully, the trude Hofgaard, Mr. and Mrs. Brandt, Dr. and Mrs. Sandow, Rev. Milliken, Miss Criegler, Mrs. and Miss Whittington, Mr. and Mrs. Mahlum, Mr. Hodge, Miss Mattie Jordan, Mrs. Aubrey Robinson, Miss Mathews, Mrs. Ewart, Mr. and Mrs. Schulze, Mr. and Mrs. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Truescott, Mrs. Cunningham, Misses Hargrave and Etta Lee, Mrs. Brodie, Miss Marie Anderson, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Woodman.

Hanapepe Chowder.
Bonfires, vocal and instrumental selections, and "Ladonies" of the best chowder ever "showed," combined with a glorious moonlight night on the Hanapepe beach, were chief features at a gathering of the members of the Hina Club at Hanapepe last Saturday evening. A special train brought the Makaweli members over while autos supplied means of transportation for the Waialeale.
The chowder was manufactured by the Makaweli Hotel chef and was of a quality that belonged to the "some more" kind. Members in attendance were Mr. Mahlum, Mrs. Holgaard, Mr. and Mrs. Keightley, Miss Jordan, Miss Hofgaard, Miss Anderson, Misses Lee, Mr. Akina, Mr. Munday, Mr. Cooke, Edward Deverell, Mr. Thompson, Herbert Berg, Mr. Elders, Martin Fassoth.
The next start the club will pull off will take the form of a "Leap Year" party, which needless to add, will be staged by the lady members.

Hop at Fort Shafter.
Tonight there will be another of those pleasant informal dances for which Fort Shafter is becoming famous. The entire service have received invitations, including the officers and their families, from headquarters, Forts Ruger and DeRussay, the Naval Station and the Pacific fleet; also many civilians. Families who have so graciously extended hospitality to the army people have also received invitations. Major Whoolley, the new commanding officer will receive the guests, assisted by the Adjutant and Mrs. Preston and the Post Surgeon and Mrs. Kennedy. The Post carriages will meet the cars from 8:15 to 9:15. The last car leaves the terminus at ten minutes before midnight. Mr. and Mrs. Damon have as usual generously loaned a choice collection of beautiful palms from the Moana Lun glass houses, and these together with the flags and other warlike paraphernalia that usually is in evidence in an army hall room, will constitute the decorations.

Mrs. Eric Knudsen's Children's Party.
Mrs. E. A. Knudsen gave a children's party for her little daughter Alexandra and son Valdemar last week. Games of every description were enjoyed by the children and prizes were awarded for the lucky winners. Refreshments were served on the lawn at a house-shaped table, and very reluctantly the little tots took leave at dark.
Mr. Harry MacFarlane's Week-End Party.
Mr. Harry MacFarlane will entertain a coterie of friends at a week-end party that is to be given at "Anuhimau"—the MacFarlane's place situated on the windward side of the island. Some of the guests will entire program being carried out with perfect ease and grace.

Miss Dora Broadbent, in a trio of pianofortes, acquitted herself in high praise. Clement's "Sonatina" was played in a masterful manner, while special mention must be made of another which was filled with beautiful expression. The piece was "From the Impromptu" (Rosamond). The ease with which Miss Dora controlled the most difficult parts, showed a technique of which many older persons might feel justly proud.
The pianoforte solo by Miss Edith Rice, entitled "Sweet Evelyn Waltz" was executed with splendid precision, while "A Leisure Hour," one of the young lady's favorites, was played with a rounded-up expression which displayed a degree of skill rarely developed in one so young.
The vocal selections were especially little expressions which were rendered with excellent expression, the enunciation being particularly clear. Little four-year-old Charlotte Elben Carter, Mrs. Carter's most youthful pupil, covered herself with distinction in rendering four verses of a pretty little action song entitled "All for Baby."
After the conclusion of the very pleasing program, small tables daintily decorated with pink carnations were set for refreshments on the final.

Hanapepe Chowder.
Bonfires, vocal and instrumental selections, and "Ladonies" of the best chowder ever "showed," combined with a glorious moonlight night on the Hanapepe beach, were chief features at a gathering of the members of the Hina Club at Hanapepe last Saturday evening. A special train brought the Makaweli members over while autos supplied means of transportation for the Waialeale.
The chowder was manufactured by the Makaweli Hotel chef and was of a quality that belonged to the "some more" kind. Members in attendance were Mr. Mahlum, Mrs. Holgaard, Mr. and Mrs. Keightley, Miss Jordan, Miss Hofgaard, Miss Anderson, Misses Lee, Mr. Akina, Mr. Munday, Mr. Cooke, Edward Deverell, Mr. Thompson, Herbert Berg, Mr. Elders, Martin Fassoth.
The next start the club will pull off will take the form of a "Leap Year" party, which needless to add, will be staged by the lady members.

Hop at Fort Shafter.
Tonight there will be another of those pleasant informal dances for which Fort Shafter is becoming famous. The entire service have received invitations, including the officers and their families, from headquarters, Forts Ruger and DeRussay, the Naval Station and the Pacific fleet; also many civilians. Families who have so graciously extended hospitality to the army people have also received invitations. Major Whoolley, the new commanding officer will receive the guests, assisted by the Adjutant and Mrs. Preston and the Post Surgeon and Mrs. Kennedy. The Post carriages will meet the cars from 8:15 to 9:15. The last car leaves the terminus at ten minutes before midnight. Mr. and Mrs. Damon have as usual generously loaned a choice collection of beautiful palms from the Moana Lun glass houses, and these together with the flags and other warlike paraphernalia that usually is in evidence in an army hall room, will constitute the decorations.

Mrs. Eric Knudsen's Children's Party.
Mrs. E. A. Knudsen gave a children's party for her little daughter Alexandra and son Valdemar last week. Games of every description were enjoyed by the children and prizes were awarded for the lucky winners. Refreshments were served on the lawn at a house-shaped table, and very reluctantly the little tots took leave at dark.
Mr. Harry MacFarlane's Week-End Party.
Mr. Harry MacFarlane will entertain a coterie of friends at a week-end party that is to be given at "Anuhimau"—the MacFarlane's place situated on the windward side of the island. Some of the guests will motor over today, while a few will not leave town until Sunday.

Mr. Noel Deerr's Dinner.
On Wednesday, February the seventh, Mr. Noel Deerr will entertain at an elaborate dinner that is to be given at the Moana Hotel. Bishop Oden of Springfield, Illinois, who is a cousin of the prospective host, will be the guest of honor. Covers will be arranged for twelve.

Commander and Mrs. Wells' Dinner.
Commander and Mrs. Wells of the U. S. S. South Dakota will give a dinner this evening at the Colonial Hotel. The decorations are to be carried out in roses. A dozen covers will stretch the handsomely appointed table. Among the distinguished guests will be Admiral and Mrs. Chauncy Thomas, Captain and Mrs. Gill, Mr. and Mrs. George Davies, Mrs. Dobbins, Miss Buckley, Lieutenant Commander Major, and Lieutenant Commander Wirtzbauch.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Marx' Dinner.
Last evening, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Marx entertained at dinner. A profusion of red roses adorned the table, the place cards were garlanded with roses. After dinner a musical evening was enjoyed. Both host and hostess are finished and talented musicians, and contributed their share toward the much-enjoyed impromptu musical program. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lodge Marx, Mr. and Mrs. Grace Cartwright, Jr., Miss Neumann, Miss Agnes Buchanan, Miss Edith Williams, and Mr. George Conaverra.

Mrs. Benjamin Baldwin's Garden Party.
Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Benjamin Baldwin entertained at a large garden party that was given in honor of Lady Herron, to which many of her friends were invited. The spacious and tropical grounds surrounding the Baldwin's home at Makaweli are ideal for an out-of-door entertainment. The hostess and her guest received under royal palms. Small tables dotted the lawn, where elaborate refreshments were served. The decorative scheme was carried out in tones of pale pink and green. Graceful sprays of begonias and sprigs of maidenhair fern decorated the tables. The Waialeale band dispersed excellent music between the hours of 4 and 6. During those hours the grounds were thronged with a fashionable assemblage. The women looked extremely attractive in their smart frocks of jeweled and beaded chiffon, mesaline satins, and fluffy organdies. Accessories of picture hats and parasols that matched the individual toilettes lent additional beauty to the many beautifully designed costumes.

Admiral and Mrs. Thomas' Dinner.
A notable dinner was given Thursday evening on board the Flagship U. S. S. California by Admiral and Mrs. Thomas. The Admiral's cabin was elaborately and beautifully decorated with red carnations, maidenhair fern and smilax. At each one of the twelve places was found a guest card, with the Admiral's flag embossed in the corner. The name of the guest was inscribed in raised gold. At the conclusion of the dinner, the party occupied a box arranged on the quarter deck, from which they enjoyed the minstrel show that was given by non-commissioned officers and sailors. The box was handsomely decorated with flags and brilliantly lighted with electricity. Those who attended the dinner and occupied the box were Admiral and Mrs. Thomas, Governor Walter Frear, Mrs. Frederick William Coleman, General and Mrs. Montgomery Macomb, Admiral Southerland, Admiral Walter Cowles, Captain and Mrs. Clifton Carroll Carter, and Lieutenant and Mrs. Ghormley.

Miss Ethel Spalding's Tea.
Miss Ethel Spalding entertained informally at tea yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Edward Cherry, wife of the British Consul of Astoria, Oregon. Most of the guests had been school mates of Mrs. Cherry's when she attended Punahou College four years ago. The interior of the Spalding's home on Punahou avenue was tastefully decorated with palms and cut flowers. At 4 o'clock tea was served in the dining room at a large table that was decorated in pink, double hibiscus and smilax. The flowers were gracefully arranged in a brass basket. Candelsticks of beaten brass were placed here and there on the table, the lighted candles being shaded by pink silk shades fashioned to represent double hibiscus. An hour of social chit-chat was spent over the tea cups. The girls who had not seen Mrs. Cherry for some years were interested in hearing in detail about her life spent on the mainland. Those numbered amongst Miss Spalding's guests were Mrs. Chester Livingston, Miss Rannie Cotton, Miss Helen Smith, Miss Florence Hoffman, Miss Irma Ballentine, Mrs. Fred Barker, Mrs. Schlanzer and Miss Katharine Allen of Fort Shafter, Mrs. Pyre (Gleason), Mrs. Lewis Goska and others.

Miss Marjorie Allan's Tea.
On Thursday, Miss Marjorie Allan, the niece of Mrs. Ernest Johnstone of Fort Shafter, invited about forty of her friends of the younger set to tea to meet Miss Alberta Woolley, her old schoolmate who has just arrived in Honolulu with her mother and father, who has recently assumed command of the battalion of the Second Infantry stationed at Fort Shafter. The decorations throughout the attractive Johnstone home were rose colored, a fitting setting for the bevy of bright young ladies that graced the tea. Mrs. Johnstone, Miss Allan and Miss Woolley received in the drawing room, which was beautifully decorated with roses. Informality was the keynote of the entertainment. The lack of formality added to the enjoyment of the affair. Mrs. James Madison Kennedy, wife of Major Kennedy, served the croquette; Mrs. Schlanzer, wife of one of the doctors of the post, poured coffee. Mrs. Watkins served the punch. The refreshments were served in the dining room, at a table adorned with purple violets and lace ferns. On this occasion less than thirty guests were invited. Among those who responded to the invitation were Mrs. Gerald Johnson, Miss Case, Miss Julie McStocker, Miss Katherine Stephens, Miss Lydia McStocker, Miss Helen Rockwell, Miss Edith Spalding, Miss Alice Cooper, Miss Zeigler, Miss Irene Cooper, Mrs. Cook of Fort Shafter, Miss Rose Herbert, Miss Frances Cozens, Miss Blanche Soper, Miss Dorothy Wood of New York, Miss Tuttle, Mrs. James Madison Kennedy, Mrs. Whoolley, Mrs. Schlanzer, Mrs. Watkins, Mrs. Preston, Miss Batteller, Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Dowler and others.

Mrs. Claire Williams' Luncheon.
Mrs. Claire Williams has issued invitations for a luncheon party that is to take place at her home at Waikiki on Wednesday of next week. Mrs. Northrup Castle is the incentive for the affair.

Mrs. Andrew Fuller's Luncheon.
Yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Andrew Fuller entertained at a bridge luncheon. The decorations were pink chrysanthemums. After luncheon bridge was played. Mrs. Fuller's guests were Mrs. George Carter, Madam Kibbitt, Mrs. E. Faxon Bishop, Mrs. Frederick William Coleman, Mrs. Frank B. Edwards, Mrs. Clifton Carter, Mrs. J. Dowsett and Miss Walker.

Mrs. W. Schultz's Luncheon.
Mrs. W. Schultz of Kaula gave a luncheon Thursday afternoon, in honor of Miss Helena Mahlum, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Hofgaard. American Beauty roses and smilax adorned the table. After luncheon the seven guests and their hostess played bridge.

most of the guests had been school mates of Mrs. Cherry's when she attended Punahou College four years ago. The interior of the Spalding's home on Punahou avenue was tastefully decorated with palms and cut flowers. At 4 o'clock tea was served in the dining room at a large table that was decorated in pink, double hibiscus and smilax. The flowers were gracefully arranged in a brass basket. Candelsticks of beaten brass were placed here and there on the table, the lighted candles being shaded by pink silk shades fashioned to represent double hibiscus. An hour of social chit-chat was spent over the tea cups. The girls who had not seen Mrs. Cherry for some years were interested in hearing in detail about her life spent on the mainland. Those numbered amongst Miss Spalding's guests were Mrs. Chester Livingston, Miss Rannie Cotton, Miss Helen Smith, Miss Florence Hoffman, Miss Irma Ballentine, Mrs. Fred Barker, Mrs. Schlanzer and Miss Katharine Allen of Fort Shafter, Mrs. Pyre (Gleason), Mrs. Lewis Goska and others.

On Thursday, Miss Marjorie Allan, the niece of Mrs. Ernest Johnstone of Fort Shafter, invited about forty of her friends of the younger set to tea to meet Miss Alberta Woolley, her old schoolmate who has just arrived in Honolulu with her mother and father, who has recently assumed command of the battalion of the Second Infantry stationed at Fort Shafter. The decorations throughout the attractive Johnstone home were rose colored, a fitting setting for the bevy of bright young ladies that graced the tea. Mrs. Johnstone, Miss Allan and Miss Woolley received in the drawing room, which was beautifully decorated with roses. Informality was the keynote of the entertainment. The lack of formality added to the enjoyment of the affair. Mrs. James Madison Kennedy, wife of Major Kennedy, served the croquette; Mrs. Schlanzer, wife of one of the doctors of the post, poured coffee. Mrs. Watkins served the punch. The refreshments were served in the dining room, at a table adorned with purple violets and lace ferns. On this occasion less than thirty guests were invited. Among those who responded to the invitation were Mrs. Gerald Johnson, Miss Case, Miss Julie McStocker, Miss Katherine Stephens, Miss Lydia McStocker, Miss Helen Rockwell, Miss Edith Spalding, Miss Alice Cooper, Miss Zeigler, Miss Irene Cooper, Mrs. Cook of Fort Shafter, Miss Rose Herbert, Miss Frances Cozens, Miss Blanche Soper, Miss Dorothy Wood of New York, Miss Tuttle, Mrs. James Madison Kennedy, Mrs. Whoolley, Mrs. Schlanzer, Mrs. Watkins, Mrs. Preston, Miss Batteller, Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Dowler and others.

Mrs. Claire Williams has issued invitations for a luncheon party that is to take place at her home at Waikiki on Wednesday of next week. Mrs. Northrup Castle is the incentive for the affair.

Yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Andrew Fuller entertained at a bridge luncheon. The decorations were pink chrysanthemums. After luncheon bridge was played. Mrs. Fuller's guests were Mrs. George Carter, Madam Kibbitt, Mrs. E. Faxon Bishop, Mrs. Frederick William Coleman, Mrs. Frank B. Edwards, Mrs. Clifton Carter, Mrs. J. Dowsett and Miss Walker.

Mrs. W. Schultz of Kaula gave a luncheon Thursday afternoon, in honor of Miss Helena Mahlum, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Hofgaard. American Beauty roses and smilax adorned the table. After luncheon the seven guests and their hostess played bridge.

(Continued on Page 14)

Week Commencing Monday, February 5

Week Commencing Monday, February 5

Special Values

Muslin Underwear

Hundreds of Garments, including Chemises, Gowns, Petticoats, Princess Slips, Drawers, Combinations, and Corset Covers

Specially Priced For One Week Only

JORDAN'S

Specially Priced For One Week Only

